LONDON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Mar. 23, 2023-- 8x8, Inc. (NASDAQ: EGHT), a leading integrated cloud communications platform provider, has been named Computing's DevOps Excellence Awards 2023 winner for Best Automation Project. The award recognises 8x8's DevOps team for the innovative application of MicroFrontEnds (MFE) Registry techniques that demonstrated the best overall impact on business and performance.

"We recognise that things can and will go wrong. By extending innovative automation techniques to modernise our solutions, we are proactively putting safeguards in place to minimize disruption and ensure business continuity," said Steve O'Hara, Vice President of Engineering at 8x8 Inc. "By breaking everything down into smaller, more manageable microservices, we can better innovate across all of our applications. We are proud of our ability to move quickly to improve applications for our customers on a daily basis, and are honored to have been recognized by Computing's DevOps Excellence Awards for these efforts."

One of the UK's leading awards in its field, Computing's DevOps Excellence Awards showcases outstanding achievements from organisations, personalities, and solutions that have successfully applied DevOps methodologies.

The award recognises that the MFE Registry strategy can be applied to breathe new life and innovation into traditional workflows that were previously impervious to rapid deployment. The technique allows for central management and targeting of versions of static apps to regions, customers, and users without the overhead of distributing it to more than 200 discrete servers.
